New Board Activities
Presenters: Hector Aguilar, Executive Dean; Luis Castillo, Workforce Coordinator–Trades, Engineering & Emerging Technology, and Don Tracy, Director, Continuing Education Business Operations and Marketing, Austin Community College; Leah Meunier, PhD, Director of Business Engagement; Yael Trevino, Deputy Executive Director, Workforce Solutions Capital Area; George Hempe, Chief Executive Officer, Workforce Solutions Alamo; and Paul Fletcher, Executive Director, Workforce Solutions Rural Capital Area

The presenters introduce new activities implemented by three different Boards, which can be replicated, and share success stories.

Austin Metro Area Master Community Workforce Plan (Workforce Solutions Capital Area)
In 2016, Austin Mayor Steve Adler and Travis County Judge Sarah Eckhardt commissioned Workforce Solutions Capital Area to lead the creation of a community-wide workforce development plan with the ambitious goal of lifting 10,000 residents out of poverty and into middle-skill jobs by 2021. The plan, which focuses on high-growth industries, is organized into four primary strategies: awareness and enrollment, training, placement, and upskilling.

Learning Objectives:
- Identify the key components of an actionable community-wide workforce plan
- Understand the metrics necessary to track progress toward the goals stated in a community-wide workforce plan

Mobile Training Units (Workforce Solutions Rural Capital Area)
This presentation explains how mobile training units, which significantly reduce travel time, allow job seekers to both access in-demand job training classes and demonstrate learned skills to local employers in order to obtain high-paying jobs.

Learning Objectives:
- Determine criteria regarding the feasibility of using mobile training units in nontraditional classroom facilities
- Identify and blend funding sources of partners (for example, employers, economic development corporations, chambers of commerce, Adult Education and Literacy grantees, and independent school districts (ISDs)) for tuition, recruitment, marketing, and support services for customers at mobile training sites
- Measure success from results

Career Pathways Marketing/County Forums and Business Roundtables (Workforce Solutions Alamo)
This summer, multiple teams of interns representing dozens of community-based organizations and independent school districts will participate in producing videos of workers in the manufacturing industry, articulating what they do in their jobs, what they like about it, what is challenging, what career pathways can be considered, personal satisfaction, and compensation/benefits.

Learning Objectives:
- Understand key points about the audio/video production industry
- Use short video segments about a particular industry group to improve outreach and marketing for students, youth, and teachers
- Explain specific career pathways in manufacturing

Responding to Disasters: Are You Prepared?
Presenters: Nick Lalpui, Regional Administrator, US Department of Labor Employment and Training Administration; Henry Guajardo, Executive Director, Workforce Solutions Golden Crescent; Marilyn Smith, Executive Director, Workforce Solutions Southeast Texas; Mike Temple, Executive Director, Workforce Solutions Gulf Coast; and Ken Trevino, President/CEO, Workforce Solutions of the Coastal Bend

Unplanned disasters can strike at any time, and this workshop will help you prepare for the unexpected. On August 23, 2017, Hurricane Harvey made landfall near Rockport, Texas, as a Category Four hurricane, with maximum sustained winds at 130 miles per hour. Harvey devastated the coastal towns of Rockport, Port Aransas, Aransas Pass, and many other communities throughout the area, including Houston. The presenters will review national disaster dislocated worker guidance with a focus on how to apply lessons learned to future disasters. Participants will hear the US Department of Labor and four Boards in the impacted areas share their experiences, successes, challenges, and real-life tips on how they have helped individuals get their lives back on track with transportation, outreach, temporary employment, child care, training, and waivers.

Learning Objectives:
- Understand how national dislocated worker grants for disasters operate
- Learn how Boards have handled disasters, to begin thinking about preparation and response in your communities
- Find out how you can support impacted disaster areas to recover quickly

Start with People: Applying a Customer-Centered Design Approach

Presenters: Virginia Hamilton, Senior Innovation and Capacity Building Consultant, American Institutes for Research (AIR), and Yael Trevino, Deputy Executive Director, Workforce Solutions Capital Area

Customer-Centered Design (CCD) is a process that starts with people and ends with services tailor-made for each customer, putting customers’ needs at the center of service delivery, processes, and customer flow. In this session, attendees will learn how to apply innovative CCD principles across the workforce system to benefit job seekers and employers with a wide range of learning styles, language levels, intelligences, and physical mobility to help foster meeting customers’ needs more efficiently. Everyone benefits when we design our organizations for access, equity, and responsiveness.

Learning Objectives:

- Understand the major principles of CCD and how they support the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act
- Identify the major steps in the CCD process
- Think about how you can implement CCD strategies in your own Workforce Solutions Offices

Child Care Automation—Streamlining Child Care Services Using Technology
Presenters: Deborah Hendley, Workforce Systems Director, Workforce Solutions Texoma; Canda Ponthieu-Doyle, Program Manager for Child Care Services; Jason Eades, Solutions Analyst/Laserfiche Developer; and Kristy Bundy, Project Manager, Workforce Solutions for North Central Texas

This session covers methods and strategies of Cabinet and Laserfiche data management systems designed to improve staff efficiency and automate the Child Care Services process. Workforce Solutions Texoma streamlined Child Care Services through online applications, online informational videos, and a paperless document management system. Child Care Services at Workforce Solutions for North Central Texas transitioned from using Workflow2 to Laserfiche, which allowed Child Care Services to reduce internal processes from 147 processes to 54 processes.
Learning Objectives:
• Outline the phases used in the process of streamlining services
• Explore the use of enhancements that integrate with Cabinet and Laserfiche data from The Workforce Information System of Texas (TWIST) for forms and daily task management
• Discuss the online application process and how it benefits customers and staff
• Identify opportunities to maximize efficiency, minimize costs, and automate Child Care Services with Laserfiche
• Gain knowledge for managing the daily application of Laserfiche in the Child Care Services process
• Learn solutions for paperless business processes, records management, and workflow

Texas Talent Connection
Presenters: Ruth Hughes, Commissioner Representing Employers, Texas Workforce Commission; Lee Rector, Executive Director, and Kaki Leyens, Program Specialist, Texas Workforce Investment Council; Mary Ross, Executive Director, Workforce Solutions of West Central Texas; and Linnea Fletcher, PhD, Executive Director, Department Chair, Biototechnology, Austin Community College, AC2 Bio-Link Regional Center

The Tri-Agency report to Governor Greg Abbott states that the creation of more paid internships, apprenticeships, and other applied learning opportunities is critical to and a priority for the state’s future success. The report notes that internships allow students to gain job skills before graduation, which, in turn, expands opportunities for success after graduation. The Texas Talent Connection grant program, funded by Wagner-Peyser 7(b) funds, focuses on innovative practices and outcomes in workforce programs and services. The panel will talk about current internship grants; the past, present, and future of the program; and the ways in which preplanning can better facilitate successful applications.
Learning Objectives:
• Identify the goals and requirements of the Texas Talent Connection grant program
• Understand the internship grant program and the use of demonstration projects
• Identify how concept notification and preplanning assists applicants
• Prepare for future grant opportunities that are evidence-based and outcome-oriented

Be the One in the Fight Against Human Trafficking
Presenter: Kirsta Melton, Assistant Attorney General, Deputy Criminal Chief Human Trafficking and Transnational/Organized Crime Unit, Office of the Texas Attorney General
Facilitators: Bradford Ward, Director, Office of Investigations, and Francisco Cerda, State MSFW Monitor Advocate, Texas Workforce Commission

Human Trafficking 101: Human trafficking is a media buzzword that often conjures images of brothels in Thailand or confusion with the ongoing immigration debate. This session cuts through the confusion, arms the participants with an understanding of what human trafficking is and is not, and helps him or her recognize that this also is an American problem, with American buyers, sellers, and victims. It refocuses our attention on adults and children who are regularly exploited but are unlikely to self-identify as victims or seek help. In this session, the presenter walks participants through actual cases prosecuted in Texas for illustration, identifies the tools of traffickers and how they are typically used to obtain and maintain victims, outlines victims’ needs and the barriers to identification and rehabilitation, and gives participants red flags and interview tips they can use to begin the identification process. It challenges us to change the culture in which we live from one that identifies with and honors perpetrators to one that provides safety, security, and genuine reintegration for the survivors of trafficking.
Learning Objectives:
• Know how to prevent, recognize, and report human trafficking
• Learn how to obtain a video training tool to train your organization’s members
• Understand how the Texas workforce system can assist victims of human trafficking
